The Reason for the Season
Preparing Ourselves for the High Holy Days

High Holy Day celebration and meaning are enhanced by preparation.
We find value in knowing something more about how and why we observe these most sacred of days.

Join Rabbis Ron Shulman and Debi Wechsler at synagogue services throughout the Hebrew month of Elul as we anticipate Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur discovering anew the reason for the season.

Selihot: An Evening of Study, Reflection, and Preparation Saturday, September 4

Join us in community and meaning for special study and discussion, a lovely dessert buffet, and beautiful prayer in anticipation of the coming new Jewish year.

8:30 p.m. Making It Personal We join in special study about how to find personal relevance and expression in the prayers and rituals of Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur. Rabbis Ron Shulman and Debi Wechsler invite us to learn and create with them as we all prepare for the High Holy Days.
We’ll enjoy the sweetness and light of Havdalah to conclude Shabbat before our program begins.

9:30 p.m. Dessert Reception
We gather in friendship and conversation, renewing our bonds as a synagogue community before the first “formal” service of the High Holy Day season.

10 p.m. Selihot Service
A String Quartet will accompany Hazzan Perlman and the Chizuk Amuno choir during our Selihot Service. Selihot is a unique and moving late night “Service of forgiveness” that begins the High Holy Day season. During the Selihot Service we are introduced to some of the prayers and motifs of the coming days of awe. The Selihot Service is an emotional, spiritual, and evocative evening of teshuvah, repentance, reflecting upon our deeds and experiences this year as we consider personal and religious goals for future growth and change. As our service begins, the Torah Scrolls in the ark are publicly changed into their white High Holy Day covers which symbolize the freshness and purity of the coming new year. We conclude our evening with the sounding of the Shofar.

Forty Days of Awe
In the midst of summer routine, August brings us to our annual season of reflection and repentance. The Hebrew month of Elul, the last of the current Jewish year, begins August 10 and 11. It is a time to look back upon our deeds as we look forward to the coming new year for our lives.

Midrash imagines that the forty days during which Moses was atop Mt. Sinai were the first day of Elul through Yom Kippur. Forty days in God’s presence. Forty days to receive Torah. Forty days to establish the measure by which all of our days have meaning.

Moses’ experience is also our opportunity. During the forty days of awe we wonder how we, too, may live in God’s presence. We prepare for Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur by setting some goals, picking an area for growth or change in our personal lives, and in our patterns of Jewish celebration.

God is present in our emotions and abilities, in our relationships and community, when we learn new things, and honestly come to understand something deeper about who we are and hope to be. As summer ends and a new year begins, may we use these forty days of awe to plan for a year of goodness and renewal.

B’Shalom Rav,
Rabbi Ron Shulman
